

Guidelines for posting content on the Crisis Intervention Association of Pennsylvania (CIAP) website

The purpose of the Crisis Intervention Association of Pennsylvania website is to support the mission of the Association

- To promote and enhance quality crisis services for individuals, families and communities in Pennsylvania.
- To provide a forum for open communication between crisis intervention providers, other mental health professionals and disaster responders statewide.
- To advocate and provide a unified voice, both at the state and regional level in the development of legislation and regulations which influence crisis intervention services.
- To provide and promote opportunities for crisis intervention/disaster education, training and conferences.

Website Submission Requirements

- Submissions will be accepted from members, officers and any other interested parties at any time.
- Information must be submitted in writing (via email) to the webmaster at dharpur@crisispa.org or to any member of the website committee, who will then submit to the webmaster.
- All subject matter should relate to topics that support the CIAP Mission, are related to Association functions, or the provision of general information that is appropriate.
- Each submission must contain the name and email address of a contact person for additional information.

Copyrights

- Any materials that are copyrighted may not be posted unless the owner of the copyright has given specific permission to post the material to the website. This includes written materials, photographs, and audio and video clips. If you believe that any content on this site infringes upon any copyrights that you own, please contact us immediately at dharpur@crisispa.org.

Review of Materials

- The CIAP has the right to review any content submitted to its website, and to reject, edit, delete, or otherwise modify, or remove, any content that we determine, in its sole discretion, without any notice to the submitting party, any material which (a) does not comply with these Posting Guidelines; (b) might violate any law, infringe upon any rights of third parties, or subject us to liability for any reason; (c) might adversely affect our public image, reputation or goodwill; or (d) should be taken down for any other reason.

Disclaimer of Liability

- In preparation of this website, the CIAP has sought to utilize the most current, correct and clearly expressed information. Nevertheless, errors in information may occur. Neither the Crisis Intervention Association of Pennsylvania (CIAP), nor the contributors to this website shall be held liable for any use of the information described and/or contained herein and they assume no responsibility for anyone's use of the information. In no event shall the CIAP, the authors or contributors be liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, special, exemplary or consequential damages however caused and based upon whatever theory of liability (whether in contract, strict liability or tort) arising in any way out of the use of this material. The information and data provided is available "as is" without warranties of any kind. The user of this information agrees to defend, indemnify and hold harmless the CIAP, its Board of Directors, administrators, moderators, its contributors and the authors from and against all claims and expenses, including attorney's fees, arising out of the use of this material.
- These guidelines are subject to change/modification at any time.